REV. W. E. FARR TELLS MORE OF EUROPEAN TRAVELS

Describes Trip Through Scotland, the Scandinavian Peninsula, Germany and Switzerland.

The following article is a continuation of the description by Rev. W. E. Farr of his recent trip through Europe. The first instalment appeared in last week's paper.

SCOTLAND

It was our privilege to spend a Sunday in Glasgow, Scotland, a city of more than a million people, and to hear one of the great preachers at the First Baptist Church. Most of the preachers have these three letters at the end of their names: "D. S. O." For a while I could not figure out what they meant, but at the close of the morning service—which was 1:30, I decided they must mean "Don't Stop On Time." There are many beautiful homes in this city, it being a great commercial center, in fact one of the greatest in all Scotland.

Edinburgh, Scotland, is a city of 420,000 people. The first thing we noticed the first morning we were there, was that the main street looked as if there were thousands of police on each side; not a soul, not a car or a vehicle of any kind was going up or down this street, and of course we asked for an explanation. The reply was, "We are waiting for the king and queen to drive by." Never having seen a king and queen, we with thousands of others stood on the sidewalk for several hours awaiting their coming. To my surprise when the king and queen came in sight they were in a beautiful carriage drawn by two white horses; immediately in front of this carriage was another drawn by four horses; in this carriage were the detectives, sheriff and chief of police.

Just after the king and queen had passed a Scotchman, seeing that I was an American asked me what I thought of the king, as he had just heard me say that I had never before seen one. My remark to him was, "he is simply an ordinary looking guy to me as an American," which was a very amusing remark to him. His reply was, "well, I guess you are about right after all." From this city we went out into the Scotch mountains about two hundred and forty-five miles, seeing indeed some really great scenery, such as lakes and great mountain peaks, travelling many miles without seeing a living soul except a shepherd watching his sheep. The country is picturesque. The people of England, Ireland and Scotland are great folks and impress one with the fact that they are not living for themselves alone. In Edinburgh you see the old home of John Knox and the new church which has been built on the site of the old one.

NORWAY

From Edinburgh we went to Newcastle, England, which is some little city itself; in fact one of the great sea ports of England, located on the North Sea. Crossing the North Sea from there we landed in Burgin, Norway, at ten o'clock at night on July 18th. At this time of year they have no night there and at two o'clock in the morning we could read a newspaper. Burgin is a city of over a million people, most of the homes and the buildings in the business section being modern. Between this city and Christiana we passed some of the greatest mountain peaks in all of Scandinavia; from these mountain tops the snow never melts entirely. To me it was a wonderful sight at this time of year to gaze upon great snow banks. Tunnel after tunnel did one pass through. By the side of the railroad one could look down hundreds and hundreds of feet, the railroad being very crooked. You could view tunnels ahead of you that to me looked very small for a train to go through. I was reminded of what the old negro said the first time he ever saw a tunnel, when a train which was a fast train dashed by and disappeared from sight; the old negro said, "Well, dar she's gone!" and some one asked him what his opinion was. He said "I ain't got none, but I'se a wonderin' what would a happened if that train had a missed the hole." The government was more than twelve years constructing this road. As you will recall, Christiana is the capital of Norway. In this city is a great Baptist college. It is not as large as many of the capitals of surrounding countries, having only 260,000 people, but it is a beautiful and clean city. They have a great railroad system and more up to date cars than you find in any of the other small countries.

SWEDEN

Stockholm, Sweden. Here we attended the Baptist World Alliance. Many pages could be written about this Alliance and its significant meetings, but on reaching home I have seen articles by many others who were in attendance and therefore I shall have very little to say about it. This is a city of 600,000 people. The reception that these Swedish people gave the Baptists who had gathered there from all parts of the world was something marvelous. It seemed to us that they took perfect delight in making our stay in their wonderful little city as pleasant as possible. On a number of occasions men would go a block to three blocks giving you directions or showing you the place you were trying to reach. (So unlike Southern Europe, where if a question was answered a hand was immediately shoved out for "some change, please.") These people did things for you freely and willingly without expectation of compensation. In this city you see the highest building in all of Europe. To us it is a baby, being only sixteen stories. The Swedish people are a high grade people and there is less drinking in Norway and Sweden than will be found in any of the other countries on the continent.

We reached the high water mark of the Convention in the Roll Call of Nations. Every nation answered this roll call by a speech of three minutes from one of their best speakers. I could not help but be reminded of the final roll call of the nations of the earth and wonder if this was anything like it. All of the speakers from the English speaking nations brought wonderful messages. The next meeting of this Alliance will be in Canada. I was glad to see the stand the Swedish people took against smoking, especially the preachers, and the growing sentiment in favor of prohibition both in Norway and Sweden.

We were so fortunate as to be able to attend the fair that is now on at Gotenberg, Sweden, which in my judgment is a greater fair than the World's Fair at St. Louis in 1904.

On leaving Gotenberg we came to the Baltic Sea, which is usually only a two hours ride over. Just as we got on the boat there came up a storm and we were on the little sea for more than four hours, and I do not know how better to state it than to say that this boat did some real "shimmying." During this storm I saw the waters flash over the entire vessel. Everyone on board was desperately sick, and to say I was sick does not express it because I was too sick to die. During these hours there were some amusing things that took place. One fellow, contributing to the ocean with all of his strength put into play, dropped off his little brown tie or it heaved off, and when his attention was called to it he said "there goes my liver—let her go." One big fat woman that you would meet about three feet before you got to her, had to stand up by the side of the boat and feed the fishes sideways. After it was all over I was thankful I had had the experience—but it was some experience.

DENMARK

This is a small country, but a

To Welcome Home Comers On Second Day of the Fair

One of the many new features and one of the most pleasant events of the North Mississippi Fair at Grenada next month will be "Home-Coming Day" which will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 24th, the second day of the meet. On that day every effort will be made to entertain those former Grenadians who "come home" for the fair. Some special features are being planned and a fine program is being arranged so as to make their stay in their old home town a most delightful occasion. There are a great many people, former residents of the town, who have not paid a visit to Grenada for many years, there are some who have very proud people. The only city we visited was Copenhagen, a city of 700,000 people with 500,000 bicycles. To tell the truth I did not know there were that many bicycles in the world. At certain hours of the day it was almost impossible to cross the streets because of them. In this city is the home of the king; his summer home is out on the edge of the Baltic Sea; it stands back about three-quarters of a mile from the main thoroughfare. We could see it plainly from the street and it impressed one as being a very beautiful building with beautiful surroundings. We were told that the people of Denmark loved their homes and delighted to live in peace—so unlike some other nations that I shall yet mention.

GERMANY

In Germany the crops are fine, clean and in good condition, and the small towns and villages seem to be in good shape, but the poorer class of people are suffering intensely. In Berlin there seemed to be suffering and disturbances caused principally by the low value of the mark. The first day we were there I owned 12,192,000, and take it from me I was some glad to be a millionaire for one time in my life. In 1914 these marks would have been worth three and a half million dollars in American money. Yes, I would have been a millionaire, but I am not now. As we were on the sight-seeing car taking in the city of Berlin, we passed hundreds of houses in course of construction, some of them magnificent buildings. One thing that was very noticeable to me was that at almost every turn we would make there would be a statue of some hero of war. These ideas are so grounded in the minds of the people that it seems they can never get away from the thought of war. I feel sorry for the people of Germany and I have a better opinion of them now than before I visited their nation.

SWITZERLAND

We landed in Lucerne, which is considered one of the most beautiful cities in all Switzerland. From there we went out on a boat ride of eighteen miles, getting off the boat and going up on a little railroad to the top of Mt. Rigi, which is one of the highest peaks in the Swiss Alps. It is impossible to describe the scenery from this point. I sat on top of an iron post at the highest place and counted twelve beautiful lakes and twenty-six towns, twenty-four of them being on these lakes. Thousands of well-kept farms could be seen. From here we could also see the River Rhine and many of the Swiss Alps, one part of which had crumbled and literally destroyed a town which was located at the foot of the mountains five years ago, and had killed about five hundred people. The inhabitants of this section are rough in appearance and low in stature. As you will recall, Switzerland is a republic with fourteen states and a president; over half of it can be seen from Mt. Rigi. The people boast of the fact that they not been here for a few years and there are others who have only recently visited the town. But the second day of the fair is to be devoted to the entertainment of all of them and each is invited and urged to be here for a great reunion of "homefolks."

All of the present citizens are expected to write to all their friends who have at one time lived in Grenada and tell them about the "Home-Coming Day," urging them to drop their business and come to Grenada for the occasion where they will be accorded a hearty and generous welcome.

are peace loving and kept out of the late war, which was certainly a compliment to them.

Going through Switzerland, we are told, that over half of the time when on the railroad you are in tunnels. The largest tunnel in the world is in Switzerland, being over twelve miles long. All the railroads are run by electricity, for it would be impossible to be in the tunnels as much as you are forced to be and drawn by engines fired by coal. It is really inviting to ride on these electric trains. On our way we passed through one mountain twice, in two tunnels. Through the same mountain is a dirt road; in fact they could have no dirt roads through there without tunneling. To say that the ride was beautiful does not begin to express it, because of the great scenery on both sides.

No doubt it will be interesting to you to know that the first English Bible was printed in Zurich, Switzerland in 1535. This was during the reign of Bloody Mary of England when persecution was at its height. Zurich was a safe refuge to many thousands of people who came from Great Britain.

(Another interesting article on Mr. Farr's travels will appear next week.)

UNION REVIVAL SERVICES AT THE PLANT CHURCH

Commencing next Sunday evening Sept. 30, promptly at 7:30, the first service of a union revival meeting will be held at the Tie Plant Methodist church when the pastor, Rev. H. G. Roberts, will do the preaching. The music Sunday evening will be furnished by the girls from the Grenada College.

On Monday evening at 7:30, Rev. Melville Johnson, pastor of the Methodist Church, will preach and the music will be supplied by the choir from the Methodist church.

The next evening, Dr. J. R. Countiss, president of Grenada College will preach while the choir from the Presbyterian church will furnish the music.

On Wednesday evening, Rev. R. A. Tucker, Presiding Elder of the North Mississippi Conference of the Methodist Church, will occupy the pulpit and the music will be directed by Rev. R. W. Emerson, rector of All Saints Church. Mr. Emerson will be assisted by his choir.

Thursday evening, Rev. W. E. Farr, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will tell the congregation of his recent trip through the Holy Land. The choir from his church will lead in the singing that evening.

The closing service of the meeting will be held on Friday evening, October 5, with preaching by Rev. J. E. Stephens, Bible Instructor in Grenada College, and the united choirs of Grenada will assist in the service.

Baptism of infants and children will be at the Sunday service. Several mothers have already expressed a desire to have their children baptized during the meeting and it is expected that others will join them in their wish.

GETTING READY FOR NORTH MISSISSIPPI RACE MEET

Fairgrounds South of Grenada Scene of Great Activity Arranging for Next Month's Fair.

One mile south of Grenada's business section or just beyond the corporate limits, the fair grounds of the North Mississippi Fair Association is a veritable hive of activity where the finishing touches are being put to a number of new exhibit halls and buildings and where an army of carpenters is rushing to completion the new grandstand so that everything may be in readiness for the opening day of the twenty-ninth fair and race meet which opens October 23 and which will run for five days closing on Saturday, October 27. One who attended the 1922 fair in Grenada and who has not visited the grounds since that time would hardly recognize the property now. A steel wire fence with iron posts has been constructed all around the land belonging to the association replacing the high board fence which was a familiar sight for so many years. And there are so many new structures on the grounds that it is a far different and more impressive sight than ever before in the history of fairs in Grenada.

Exhibition booths are being arranged so that there will be none to go away from this year's fair on account of lack of space to accommodate his or her exhibit. There have already been an unprecedented number of entries for this period of the year so far in advance of the event and indications are that all available space will be taken. Exhibits will be on display from every county in the fair district and a visitor to the fair may get an insight into what is being done over this section of Mississippi.

The lover of good horse racing, the sport of kings, are in for a treat every day of the fair this year as some of the best racing blood in Mississippi and the South will be on hand to furnish thrills to those who enjoy this sport. And there's not a red-blooded man or woman who does not enjoy a contest between fine specimens of spirited horseflesh.

The polo field is in the center of the grounds and is so arranged that everyone may have an excellent view of the game from any angle. The field is said, by those who ought to know, to be in the very best of condition and ranks with the best fields in the country. This year there will be ten teams, or forty players, all well known and of international reputation in the polo world and the trophies will be hotly contested. Visitors are expected to come from all over the country to view these games during the fair and incidentally to take in the other features of the occasion. John Borden, the owner of Glenwild who is taking such a keen interest in the success of the fair, is the captain of the Glenwild Polo Team and is recognized as one of the best polo players in the country today. He will attempt to lead his team to victory at next month's meet.

One of the largest and best carnival attractions on the road has been booked to furnish the midway amusements during the five days and their outfit is made up of every known enterprise and device to attract and please the funlovers, both young and old.

The fairgrounds is located on the Jefferson Davis Highway, a hard-surfaced road, just south of town and hundreds and hundreds of visitors will come to Grenada in their cars for the event. The railroads have granted reduced fares from every point in the state and special trains will be run from many points. All trains, both north and south bound, will stop at the entrance to the grounds to discharge and receive passengers and every convenience for the visitors is being arranged. Those from nearby points will most of them return to their homes every night but there will be ample accommodations in the city for those who care to remain overnight. Grenada's splendid hotel facilities will be augmented by the use of private homes where necessary and there will be none who will have to walk the streets for lack of a place to stay.

Everyone in the fair district taking the greatest interest in the fair this year and the attendance promises to exceed by a large number the 1922 attendance, which set record for the association.

There will be ample parking facilities for all automobiles and watchmen will be stationed at parking grounds so that there will be no danger of reason to fear loss of one's car. Free camp have been provided with access to fresh water and many are expected to pitch their tents for the duration of the fair.

Those who have an opportunity to visit Grenada from October 27 and who pass up the opportunity will regret it the balance of their lives when they begin to read reports of the splendid fair which is now assured will be a gala event.

TO OPEN HOSPITAL

Drs. F. S. Hill and J. I. Avent have recently purchased the road-side home on College Street for the purpose of converting it into a hospital which they hope to have ready for use on or before October 15th. The location is an ideal one for a hospital and the home is commodious and excellently conducted.

Dr. Hill has been in Grenada for years and his skill as a physician and surgeon has been thoroughly demonstrated during his period of service to the sick and afflicted in the community.

Dr. Avent is a native of Oxford and is a member of one of the most prominent families of Lafayette County. He is a graduate of the literary department of the University of Mississippi, having received his Bachelor of Science degree from that institution. He was also awarded the Ph. G. degree from the University and finished the two years' medical course there. From there, he went to Tulane University at New Orleans where he completed his medical course and where he received his M. D. degree. After his graduation Dr. Avent served two years as house surgeon in the Illinois Central hospital at New Orleans and six months in one of the charity hospitals there.

The Sentinel feels sure that Dr. Avent and his excellent wife will be given a cordial welcome by the people of Grenada and it hopes that their stay here will be long and pleasant.

DR. J. R. KIDWELL

TO WED NEXT MONTH

The Grenada friends of Dr. James R. Kidwell have received announcement of his engagement and approaching marriage to Miss Pearl Elizabeth Nolen of Hannibal, Mo., the wedding to take place on Tuesday, October 9. Those who got to know Dr. Kidwell during his residence in Grenada knew him as an elegant, high-class gentleman in every respect and his many friends here wish him much happiness in his matrimonial venture.

REV. F. R. GRAVES

OF SUMNER TO PREACH

The Sentinel has been requested to announce that Rev. F. R. Graves, of Sumner, will fill the pulpit at the Presbyterian Church at both the morning and evening services next Sunday, Sept. 30. Mr. Graves is an excellent preacher and his message will be ones that are well worth hearing.

At three o'clock that afternoon, Mr. Graves will preach to the congregation of Bethel Church in the Pea Ridge community.

"PAY-AS-YOU PAVE" NEW ROAD IDEA

That roads should be paid for by the people who use them and not posterity; and that it is cheaper to pay for roads now than in the future, are the guiding ideas in the scheme now being tried in San Diego County, California.

This county has agreed, through its board of supervisors, to construct ten miles of highway, 20 feet wide, paved with concrete, under the "pay as you pave" plan. Thirty miles are to be built. Past experiments in paved highway construction in this county have shown that such roads can be built on a cash basis for $25,000 a mile, as compared with $51,275 a mile ultimate cost under the forty-year, 5 per cent, bond-issue plan usually adopted for road building financing in the Western States, California included.

The plan was invented after three years' study of road building by George Heston, treasurer of the county. Since its adoption, at the first of the year, one road, the Po-way Grade Highway, has been completed under it, and the plan found to work out exactly as predicted.

The plan is based on the conclusion that it is better business to increase the tax rate for the purpose of obtaining funds for highway building than to increase the rate for interest on a paving bond issue, since the ultimate cost of the improvement under the increased tax rate will be approximately one-half of that under the bond issue. This tax rate also takes care of the maintenance of the highways when they are paved; the bond issue does not do this. The Heston plan releases future generations from the burden of paying for bonds the receipts from which were used for building roads which by the time the bonds are paid have been worn out and rebuilt, not once, but in all probability two or three times.

NEW FORD MODELS ON DISPLAY

The first of the new type Ford cars which recently arrived in this city are now on display at the show room of Grenada Motor Co., local Ford dealers.

The higher radiator, now standard in all Ford types, has brought a general improvement throughout the entire line and the new radiator apron blending with similar apron effects on the fenders, gives the front of the cars a highly finished appearance.

The Touring Car shows a decided improvement having a more streamline effect. It is lower in appearance, a feature adding much to the attractiveness of the slanting windshield and one-man top.

The Ford Runabout is likewise much improved and looks more sturdy. The Coupe is entirely new in body design and construction. There is a more trim exterior appearance, more comfortable seating arrangements and greater luggage carrying capacity. From the dash there is a graceful sweep in the cowl to the radiator. The doors are wide and heavily framed. A larger compartment at the rear gives increased room for luggage and the new type rear fender is more secure. Ventilator in the cowl and a visor over the windshield add to the exterior appearance, effecting a high quality aspect.

Interior arrangement is more convenient and the upholstery is choice. The seat is deeply cushioned and the cushions are divided making it easy for filling the gasoline tank which is under the seat. A small recess shelf at the rear of the seat is handy for small parcels. The door windows are equipped with revolving type window regulators permitting any desired ventilation. Doors are provided with locks. The higher radiator has added to the beauty of the Four Door Sedan. This car, highly popular since its introduction a year ago because of its low, graceful lines, now presents a more sturdy appearance.

Another feature coming as the result of the change in the front of the car, including larger cowl, radiator and hood, is that occupants of the front seat are afforded more space, thus insuring added riding comfort. Many other little improvements and refinements are noticeable including revolving type window regulators for all door windows and a dome light for illuminating the interior.

YOUR TEETH

MISSISSIPPI STATE
BOARD OF HEALTH
Bureau of Child Welfare. Division of Mouth Hygiene.

THE MOUTH
If you were to make a list of all the things you have ever put into your mouth, you would wonder how you have escaped the asylum.

The mouth is intended to receive and prepare food for the stomach and to act as an organ of speech. If you will teach your children to use their mouths as nature intended and then if you will try to learn the same lesson, you will avoid more than one-half of the disease germs that are trying to get into your body.

Nearly seventy per cent of all human disease enters through the mouth. Keep your mouth clean and discontinue the disease-producing bacteria.

IRREGULAR TEETH

By Rea Proctor McGee, D. D. S. M. D., Editor "Oral Hygiene"
When the teeth once come into their natural position in the mouth there is seldom any disturbance during the process of eruption.

Teeth that are irregular require much more effort on the part of nature than those that are normal.

It is like the ninety and nine that went not astray. The good sheep caused no trouble and walked right into the fold, but the one irregular one kept the shepherd out all night in the wet when he should have been asleep.

One of the causes of irregularity in the teeth is the uneven development of the jaw bones themselves, due to the effect of childhood fevers and to abscesses or too early loss or too long retention of temporary teeth. The density or hardness of the jaw bones is produced by the orderly laying down of lime salts. Any inflammation may cause this uneven development.

More than usual resistance to the movement of an erupting tooth through the bone will cause the tooth either to choose the route of least resistance or to give up hope and become impacted, that is, not to erupt at all.

Whenever the teeth of a child are irregular, that child suffers not only from lack of proper mastication and appearance and form of the mouth and face, but actually from a very considerable backward pressure of blood from the region of the jaws.

This causes adenoids and congestion of the membranes of the nose and in a great many instances nervous conditions that interfere with the disposition and development of the child. Irregular teeth should be straightened at the first opportunity.

COMPLETING DETAILS FOR STATE FAIR

Jackson, Sept. 26—Final details for the holding of the Mississippi State Fair October 15-20 are being completed by Miss Mabel Stire, Secretary. Already practically every exhibition space is filled and applications continue to be received at the Fair Association offices here.

New chicken coops that will accommodate 1500 additional birds, redecoration of the booths for the girl's clubs exhibitions, improvements around the hog and cattle barns, building of a wire fence, on the north side of the entrance, displacing the unsightly wooden affair, additional boxes built in the grandstand and bleachers built on each side of the grandstand are a few of the improvements that have been made at the fair plant during the summer months. A large force of workmen will be busy right up to the time the fair opens making other improvements.

Amusement attractions booked for the fair this season are the best possible to obtain. Auto races will feature the first day. The last three days of the week will find three football games as drawing cards, the final one being the Ole Miss. A and M, game, the State's gridiron classic. Rubin and Cherry's shows will be on the midway with the cleanest set of attractions seen here in many years. Free grandstand acts that will be sure to amuse the large crowds have been booked for every day of the six day exposition.

One of the features of the fair that will attract hundreds to the city will be the fireworks display at night—"Scrapping The Navy," the most spectacular fireworks display ever attempted.

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 7

ABRAHAM, A BLESSING TO THE WORLD

LESSON TEXT—Gen. 12:1-3; 18:17-18; 22:15-18.

GOLDEN TEXT—"In Thee shall all families of the earth be blessed."—Gen. 12:3.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Being a Blessing to Others.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A Man Who Became a Blessing to the World.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Abraham, a Religious Pioneer.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Abraham, a Religious Pioneer.

I. Abraham's Ancestors (Josh. 24:2, 14).
Abraham's people were idolaters. Very likely as a young man, he himself worshipped idols. Tradition furnishes us with some interesting stories touching his struggle against idolatry. At any rate, his experience was such as to well qualify him to be the head of a people whose God was the Lord. He knew how hopelessly disastrous idolatry was to the morals of the people, and, therefore, would be able to lead them back to God.

II. Abraham's Call (Gen. 12:1, cf. Acts 7:2-3).
God came to him in Ur of the Chaldees and said unto him:

1. "Get thee out of thy country." One is tied to his country with a strong bond. Abraham had lived long enough to have formed strong attachments to his country.

2. "Get thee out from thy kindred." Abraham was not only to leave behind him his native land, but his relatives as well, even his father's house. Since his kindred were idolaters, he must leave them. Abraham was to become a pilgrim, to be without a home. Even in Canaan, the only land he ever owned, was a burial place.

3. "Into the land that I will show thee." He was not told what or where the land was. He went out not knowing whither he went (Heb. 11:8). While he dwelt in tents during his earthly sojourn, yet "he looked for a city which hath foundations whose builder and maker is God" (Heb. 8:10). And thus he was a typical believer called out from his family and country, and renouncing idolatry, he walked by faith, testifying to his and succeeding generations to the faithfulness of God. It costs to obey God, but there is an abundant recompense.

III. God's Promise to Abraham (Gen. 12:2-3; 18:17-18).

1. The Father of a Great Posterity (v. 2). This has been literally fulfilled. He was not to go out primarily for what he could get, but for what he could do. The minister and missionary forget their own personal blessings in the supreme joy of their converts who are the fruits of their labor. No name in all history equals that of Abraham in its honorable influence. His is the name of honor among Jews, Mohammedans and Christians. They all acknowledge him as father.

2. A Blessing to Others (vv. 2, 3). He was not only to become great and to share God's blessings, but to be a blessing to others. He has become a blessing to countless multitudes. This is the prevailing law of the spiritual life—being blessed to be a blessing. Those who respond to this law become the very touchstone of God, so precious that God will bless them who bless them, and curse those who curse them. God makes common cause with His people. So vitally is He one with them that it is a serious thing to mistreat them. To mistreat God's children is to lift the hand against God. No one who goes against Him can prosper. Not only is this so with reference to wilful acts against His children, but neglect or refusal to do good to them. "Christ regards all acts for or against them as for or against Him."

IV. God Testing Abraham (Gen. 22:1-18).

Abraham's faith was shown in that he obeyed the call of God and left his land and kindred, but his faith reached its highest point in offering Isaac. For many years, he had waited for the fulfillment of God's promise as to his heir. At last that promise was a reality. Abraham's hope was not the ordinary hope which fills the heart of every father, that his name and work may be perpetuated through his son. A new nation and the world's Savior were to spring up from Abraham through this son. Through this great ordeal, his faith responded enabling him to believe that God would give Isaac back from the dead (Heb. 11:17-19). God tries all His children. The more important, the more severe the trial.

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 30

REVIEW: GREAT MEN AND WOMEN OF THE NEW TESTAMENT

DEVOTIONAL READING—Heb. 11:18-16, 39, 40.

GOLDEN TEXT—"Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us."—Heb. 12:1.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Favorite Story of the Quarter.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Favorite Heroes and Heroines of the Quarter.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Some Great Characters of the New Testament.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Life Lessons From This Quarter.

With the senior and adult classes, three methods of review may be profitably employed:

1. The descriptive word method as presented in Peloubet's Select Notes.

1. Brave John the Baptist.
2. The Faith-Filled Virgin Mary.
3. Impulsive Peter.
4. Loving John the Apostle.
5. Thoughtful Matthew.
6. Ardent Mary Magdalene.
7. Busy Martha and Open-Hearted Mary.

8. Faithful Stephen.
9. Generous Barnabas.
10. The Many-sided Paul.
11. Timid Mark.
12. Helpful Luke.
13. Consecrated Timothy.

2. Presenting Life Lessons as given in Cranell's Pocket Lessons:
1. Woman Lessons.
1. Mary: Glorified Motherhood. Lesson 2.
2. Magdalene: Adoring Gratitude. Lesson 6.
8. Martha-Mary: Rounded Womanhood. Lesson 7.
II. Leader Lessons.

1. Peter: Compacted Zeal. Lesson 3.
2. John: Ripened Love. Lesson 4.
3. Paul: Passionate Devotion. Lesson 19.

III. Helper Lessons.

1. John: Faithful Pioneering. Lesson 1.
2. Matthew: Divine Transformations. Lesson 5.
3. Stephen: Heroic Witness. Lesson 8.
4. Barnabas: Greatening Greatness. Lesson 9.
5. Mark: Return of the Quilter. Lesson 11.

6. Luke: Double Healer. Lesson 12.
7. Timothy: The Glorious Ministry. Lesson 13.

3. The Summarizing of Contents. The following is suggestive:

Lesson I. John the Baptist was a humble and courageous man. He did not take honor to himself nor trim his message to suit the crowd.
Lesson II. Mary should not be worshiped, but she is worthy of great honor. Her faith made her to acquiesce in the Lord's will in spite of the fact that she knew that her character would be suspected.
Lesson III. Peter, while being fickle and cowardly, is a fine example of the transforming power of God's grace.

Lesson IV. John the apostle was a reticent man. He did not say much about himself, but was passionately in love with his Lord.

Lesson V. Matthew, though humble, was a man of force of character and decision. He left all and followed Jesus.

Lesson VI. Mary Magdalene, because she was saved, was steadfast in her devotion to the Lord. Because of this, she was able to tell the good news of the resurrection to the discouraged disciples.

Lesson VII. Mary and Martha both loved the Lord. Martha was mistaken as to the best way to please Him. Mary chose the good part in fellowship with her Lord which has made her name immortal.

Lesson VIII. Stephen was so completely filled with Christ that his face shone as the face of an angel.

Lesson IX. Barnabas was a good man and filled with the Holy Ghost. Therefore, he was qualified as a leader of men.

Lesson X. Paul's knowledge of Jesus was so real that he had as his supreme aim to magnify Him.

Lesson XI. Mark, though having turned back from the work, was restored and became a great and honored minister of Christ.

Lesson XII. Luke, the skilled and popular physician, gave himself up to be the attendant of the missionary of the cross.

Lesson XIII. Because of Timothy's religious training, he became a worthy minister of the gospel.

GOOD YEAR

"Well!
Strong!"

Mrs. Anna Clover, of R. F. D. 5, Winfield, Kans., says: "I began to suffer some months ago with womanly troubles, and I was afraid I was going to get in bed. Each month I suffered with my head, back and sides—a weak, aching, nervous feeling. I began to try medicines as I knew I was getting worse. I did not seem to find the right remedy until someone told me of

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

I used two bottles before I could see any great change, but after that it was remarkable how much better I got. I am now well and strong. I can recommend Cardui, for it certainly benefited me."

If you have been experimenting on yourself with all kinds of different remedies, better get back to good, old, reliable Cardui, the medicine for women, about which you have always heard, which has helped many thousands of others, and which should help you, too. Ask your neighbor about it; she has probably used it.

THE CITY'S EXCUSE FOR A BUDGET.

The budget which is being published in The Sentinel this week by the City Council of Grenada makes a stagger at complying with Chapter 225 of the Laws of 1922, but it is a poor excuse. It is a one-legged budget. It is crippled. It does not meet the demands of the law. It just half-way answers the law's requirements. It gives the contemplated expenditures but is as silent as a cemetery about anticipated revenues, and the law demands both a showing of expenditures and revenues.

The Grenada public will no doubt be wondering what the Council is trying to "put over" that it fails to meet the full demand of the law by taking the citizens into its confidence.

Section 7 of Chapter 225, Laws of 1922, provides a penalty for a failure to comply with the statute in the following language:

"Any violation of this act shall make the member of the boards voting for the same and the sureties on their official bonds liable for the full amount of the claim allowed, the contract entered into, or the public work provided for; and the county prosecuting or district attorney SHALL sue for the recovery of the sum or sums so voted, as aforesaid in the name of the county or municipality as the case may be."

We are just wondering why "salaries," General Fund, as listed in that part of the budget being published, are $6,250.00 while in the budget published last year, the figures were $5,500.00. Where does the increase come in?

The taxpayers of Grenada should look over what little figures are given so as to post themselves as best they can therefrom about the City's business.

The item in school budget of $2750. for insurance is pretty heavy—certainly there must be some error in those figures.

It is manifest that there will be a several mill increase in the tax levy.

WHAT THE 5 1-2 PER CENT BONDS WILL YIELD

From a tabulation issued by "The Bond Buyer" of New York on "tax-free vs taxable bonds," we observe that the bonds which the City Council sold last week at 5 1-2 per cent will actually yield to the man with an income of over $200,000—and only those with big incomes are out buying bonds—an annual rate of interest of 13.10 per cent. This tabulation was not intended to fall into the hands of indiscriminate persons and certainly not into the hands of newspaper men, but is issued to give advice to those with surplus money or with big incomes.

A great deal of propaganda is being sent over the land advising public improvements and fostering bond issues. In this particular we are reminded of the ringmaster's question to the clown and the clown's answer: The ring master inquired, "What makes you act such a fool?" to which the clown replied, "Mr. Robinson pays me well to do so." It pays those who have big incomes and who are hunting a way to avoid the tax gatherer, to do all they can to foster enterprises which mean bond issues, but the surprising thing is how readily people "fall for it."

The bonds sold at 5 1-2 per cent no doubt sold at about what similar bonds are being sold for in other places, nevertheless there are some mighty good citizens and far-seeing men in Grenada who think, that inasmuch as the money for the bonds was not to be used for an emergency, it would have been well to have deferred.

Again we repeat what Mike Conner said over and over in Mississippi in his recent campaign, "a very large per cent of our taxes are self-imposed." The City Council in this particular instance can readily render as an excuse for the bond sale, "the mandate of the voters." Besides this $60,000. some thirty or fifty thousand more will come along later, and possibly more than that.

HON. T. U. SISSON DIED OF HEART FAILURE.

The telegraph wires brought the news to Grenada Wednesday morning that Hon. T. U. Sisson had died that morning in Washington City of heart failure. The news was a shock to Grenada. It brought genuine sadness and regret to many citizens of our town and County. The news brought sadness throughout Mississippi as well as to of Mr. Sisson's friends throughout the Nation.

T. U. Sisson was no ordinary man. He was a student and had a remarkable grasp of the characteristics of men and of conditions. He was a hard worker. He was a good lawyer and a most potential pleader at the bar. He had an humble beginning in life. He was honest. He had legions of friends throughout the State. He was regarded as one of the ablest and most useful men in Congress. He was well versed in statecraft. He was kind of nature. He was always obliging. The humblest could always get his attention.

We did not always see things from Mr. Sisson's political viewpoint, but have always been his friend and he has been ours. And now since he has passed to the great beyond, we get more than ordinary satisfaction out of a heart to heart talk we had with him when he was here only a few weeks ago when he said out of the abundance of his heart, that, notwithstanding "our views sometimes diverged I have always counted you as one of my good friends." He represented this district in the lower house of Congress 14 years and prior to that, served nearly eight years as district attorney of this judicial district.

He was only a few years past the fiftieth mile post, and it is indeed a pity that the country is to be deprived of the services of one so able and so capable as he. Peace to his memory.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB.

We are publishing this week a letter from the President of the Grenada County Woman's Club in which is an appeal to the women of the county for encouragement, co-operation and support in carrying on the work of the club. It seems that the club is about to go out of existence for lack of interest on the part of its members. For the many good things it has accomplished for the town and county, for the splendid entertainment it gave the state federation at its annual meeting last year, and for the program of work it has in view for the future, the Grenada County Woman's Club should not be allowed to die but should be given added impetus in its work by the enrollment of many new members and a renewal of interest on the part of the old members.

If nothing else, one great good accomplished by the organization is the fact that its members get together for an afternoon once a month and thus get to know each other better and to become acquainted with what is going on over the county. It stimulates friendship between the members and gives them the opportunity to know that each section of the county is interested in the welfare of the other sections.

We hope that the meeting next Wednesday afternoon will have a full attendance and that the good work of the Woman's Club will go on.

THE ABSENT VOTER LAW.

A great deal of loose talk is being indulged in about repealing the Absent Voter Law. If it is to be repealed because of its abuse, then we shall have to repeal our primary laws and our Australian ballot system. The Absent Voter law made possible the election of Hubert D. Stephens last year and but for it, Whitfield would have got through, maybe, by the skin of his teeth this year.

Let's not repeal the law, but let's resolve as Mississippians and honest Democrats not only to enforce the Absent Voter law but the primary law as well.

Certainly we have not reached the point in Mississippi where one Democrat will swindle another or where we cannot have honest elections. Surely we can have honest elections. We shudder to believe that any great number of our people subscribe to the pernicious and sometimes facetiously announced creed that "anything is fair in politics."

We repeat that if the Absent Voter law is to be repealed because of its violation, then we cannot afford to stop there. The law is all right. Let it be enforced.

RANK PARTISANSHIP IN MUSCLE SHOALS SALE

The action of Secretary of War, Weeks, this week in the sale of a part of the Muscle shoals plant, is but another act in the tragedy which has been a part of the Republican program to hamstring the South and as far as possible discredit the Wilson administration. The Republicans have dallied and marched back and forth for the past three years while endeavoring to find some excuse to keep from selling Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford. The development of Muscle Shoals as contemplated by Ford would have meant a great deal to this section. He would have made it of service to the Nation. Had Muscle Shoals been in New England, the deal would have been put over months ago and the wheels would have been turning there now. If possible, Congress ought to take steps to nullify what the Secretary of War has done.

The Sentinel is in receipt of the initial number of the "Mississippi Builder" published in Jackson under the management of Messrs. R. H. Pate and Munro Nichols. The publication is issued under the auspices of the State Chamber of Commerce. These are both capable and experienced men. The first number is indeed a very creditable one. Seriously we doubt that there is a place for such a publication in Mississippi. The work it can do and will do is largely a duplication of what the county and the daily newspapers are doing, hence we fear that these two excellent gentlemen will ere long find their finances where other somewhat similar projects have been found before—on the rocks. Nevertheless we wish them well.

The legislature which is to convene next January should not be too exceedingly scrupulous lest its failure to meet the "demands" for certain appropriations "cripple" certain state enterprises. Scrupulousness should be exercised lest in meeting the "demands" the taxpayers be "crippled" and the tax rate and bonded indebtedness of the State be made a barrier to new business enterprises coming among us.

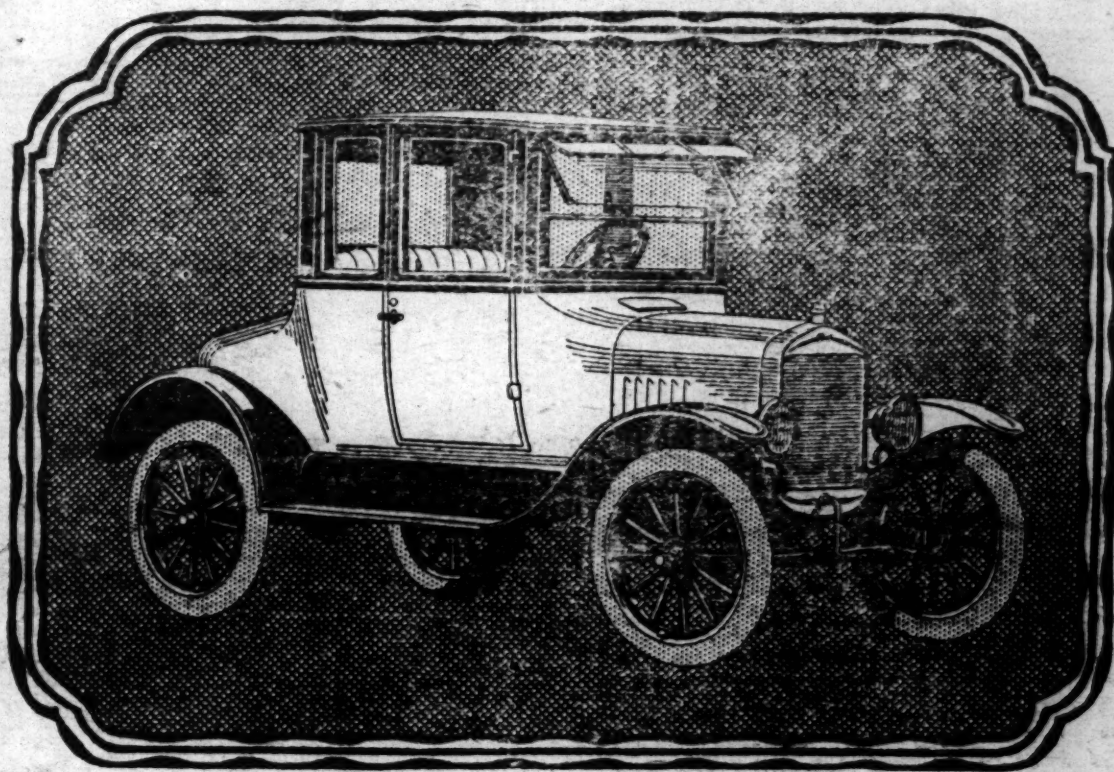

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank the good people of Grenada for their goodness and kindness to me since the loss of my home by fire last week. Many have done everything possible for my comfort and I am deeply grateful.
Sincerely,
Mrs. H. V. Yeager

COAL COMPANY

IN NEW HANDS

Elsewhere in The Sentinel this week may be seen the announcement of C. A. Perry and Ben Perry that they have purchased the Jay-Em-Bee Co. and will carry on the business at the same stand.

Both of these gentlemen are well-known to all in Grenada, both having resided here all their lives. Their reputation and integrity, which are beyond reproach, serve as a guarantee that all who do business with them will have no cause for complaint on any grounds. Both have had experience in the coal business and their knowledge gained from this experience should enable them to serve the public intelligently and well. It is their purpose to carry only the best lines of coal and to sell them at prices that invite and urge comparison.

It is their aim and purpose to emulate the methods and manner of dealing which made the Jay-Em-Bee Coal Co. so popular. They hope to profit by all that they may have learned from the late lamented J. M. Brown, and The Sentinel feels that these two men will come as nearly doing so as any two men in the community. It commends them to the general public and feels sure that their policies will merit general approval.

The Perfect Crime

By CHAS. E. BAXTER

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

RAWLINS had arranged to meet Simpson down by the river at the edge of the manufacturing town, and there to hand him $2,000 in bills.

Simpson had been a confederate of Rawlins in the bank robbery, 12 years before. Simpson had been sent up for ten years; Rawlins had made his getaway, and later appeared as a prosperous business man in another state, married, with two fine children and a $12,000 home. Also he had a reputation for integrity in the community.

Then Simpson had turned up, and the $2,000 was only the beginning of what he was going to do to Rawlins.

Both men knew that. Henceforth Rawlins was going to support Simpson, work for him, be his milch cow, as the price of his home, his freedom, his wife, his children.

What Simpson failed to reckon on was Rawlins's nerve.

Rawlins doped the matter out. Down by the river, where the mills kept the air alive with sound until late in the night, a pistol shot would hardly attract notice. If Rawlins shot Simpson and flung his body into the race, Simpson would be swirling 50 miles down the valley by morning, toward the sea. Nobody knew Simpson, no clue to the murder would exist, certainly none that could be laid to Rawlins.

Rawlins went over and over the problem in his mind, and it seemed to him that he could not fail. He went to meet Simpson with his automatic ready, and a light heart, having told his wife that he had to see a man on business.

He had worked out this part too; the murder would take five minutes at the most, and by running he could keep his appointment almost punctually. Oh, yes, the alibi was going to be perfect!

A slouching figure loomed up before him. It was Simpson.

"Well, you brought 'em?"

"Sure I've brought them, Simpson. But see here, before I hand this money over to you I must have your assurance that this will be the last."

"Sure, I'll be the last. I only want enough to set me up in a small way," grunted Simpson.

He stretched out his hand. Rawlins drew his automatic in the dark. "On second thought, Simpson," he said, "I guess I'll hand you this instead." He shot Simpson through the heart. Simpson gurgled and toppled forward.

Stepping carefully so as not to get blood on his clothes, Rawlins lifted the body and hurled it down into the race below.

He went home, overjoyed, and slept like a top. However, he was awake quite early. Although he had no conscience at all with regard to what he had done, he discovered with surprise all the impulse of the murderer to return to the scene of his crime.

He went off toward his mill. His early departure was not an uncommon thing; he wasn't betraying himself by it. When he reached the place of the murder he uttered a cry of dismay.

Simpson's body had been washed upon a ledge of rocks opposite, in plain view of hundreds of workers passing the other side of the stream, and Simpson was grinning.

Had anybody seen? Rawlins waited desperately until the whistle announced that the factory had engulfed its population. Then he crossed the bridge, clambered down the rocks, and tossed Simpson's body into the water again.

All the while he could see into a score of factory windows.

The body went whirling down the gorge. Rawlins climbed up the rocks again and went into his office.

He felt that he had hardly one chance in fifty. In full observation of the mills he had deliberately disengaged the body from the ledge and flung it into the stream. He thought of flight. At last, however, he decided to stay and brazen it out. A fugitive was always trapped sooner or later. If he stayed, he might still escape the rope. Nothing could be proved on him.

A week of horror followed.

Then he read that a body of an unknown man had been found washed ashore 20 miles below Puddletown. There were no marks of identification upon the clothing, and the features were unrecognizable, but the man had a bullet wound through the heart, and was evidently a suicide.

Rawlins drew a deep breath. He had won. Not one of the millhands had seen the body upon the rocks, nor his despairing act in giving it to the current. Rawlins had constructed the perfect crime.

Not Her Pup.

An itinerant dog artist saw a poodle with a beautiful long coat sitting at the feet of a fashionably dressed woman. He suggested that the dog would look better if clipped in the traditional poodle manner. She agreed with him, so he took out his clippers, and after half an hour's time had transformed the dog.

He then asked for payment. The woman refused and he expostulated.

The woman shrugged her shoulders. "Why should I pay?" she asked. "It isn't my dog!"

Totally Disabled.

Beggar—"Gimme a dime, sir. I'm a poor cripple." Passerby—"How are you crippled?" Beggar—"Financially."—Atlanta Constitution.

MAKING A STORE SERVE

YOU'VE discovered, no doubt, that the best thing you do for yourself, is something you do for others

We've discovered that in business; the best way for us to make this business grow, to make it more profitable, is to make it serve the public

We know what men want in things to wear; we know where to get them, what they cost, what they're worth to you. Knowing these things, all we have to do is to get such things, mark them at fair prices, and guarantee your satisfaction

It seems simple, doesn't it? It is. A business conducted on such a basis ought to prosper, grow large, make money; it will

Miss Pryor is Grateful for the Way
Stella Vitae Restored Her Health

"So many women suffer through ignorance as to the right treatment for their troubles that it is a pity they don't try Stella Vitae," said Miss Irene Pryor, Laurel, Miss.

"I was very much run down and suffering from a female derangement that was seriously impairing my health. I felt so weak I hardly had energy enough to do anything. Had but little appetite or relish for my food, suffered from dull headaches and my back would sometimes ache far into the night.

"I was advised to take Stella Vitae, which I did and the first bottle did me so much good I kept on with it and now I am strong and healthy and feel fine all the time. I shall always feel grateful for this wonderful medicine and think every weak and ailing woman should take it."

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.

FLANAGAN-MIERS

A lovely home wedding was that of Miss Frances Flanagan and Mr. Walton Lee Miers of Grenada which was beautifully solemnized in the plantation home of the bride's parents near this city Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the presence of relatives and a few close friends.

The home was prettily decorated in yellow chrysanthemums and golden rod and the ceremony was said in the living room, attractively decorated for the occasion in ferns and evergreens. Southern smilax and ferns on white pedestals formed an altar and white and gold tapers and bows of filmy white tulle made a circle within which the couple stood.

The single ring ceremony was used and was said by Dr. J. W. Storer.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Fred Little sang "O Promise Me" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. R. Prosser who also played Mendelssohn's wedding march and Lohengrin as the recessional.

Mrs. H. G. Flanagan was the matron of honor and for the occasion was beautifully gowned in a creation of black lace and gold and carried a large arm bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums and ferns tied with yellow tulle. The lovely chrysanthemums in her bouquet and that of the maid of honor came all the way from Canada and were most gorgeous.

Miss Willie Mae Miers of Grenada, sister of the groom as maid of honor was lovely in a gown of brown and gold.

Little Rachael Ann Tillman who served as flower girl was daintily frocked in gold chiffon and tulle and carried rose petals in a gold basket.

The bride and groom entered together. For her wedding Miss Flanagan was wearing her going away suit, a handsome three piece model of midnight blue poiret twill with grey accessories. Her bouquet was fashioned of brides roses and valley lilies.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Flanagan drove them to Clarksdale where they caught the train for Memphis. After October 1st they will be at home in Grenada.

Mrs. Miers, who is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Flanagan is a lovely young girl of charming personality and numbers her friends by the score.

Mr. Miers is a young man of promising business future. He is connected with the Gayoso Lumber Company in Grenada.

The out of town guests included the groom's mother, Mrs. Milton Miers and daughter, Miss Lucille Miers and Mr. Conrad Beasley of Grenada.—Greenwood Community wealth.

The football season for Grenada High School opens this Friday afternoon, September 28th, 3:30 sharp. Come to the football grounds at the school building and see the boys open up with the heavy Water Valley team. The old rivals are coming with an unusually heavy and well coached team and with grim determination to win. Grenada High has the promise of a great team this year. The boys have the pep and are getting some splendid training under coach Barr. Of the old men, Futhey, Jones, Provine,, Pope, Horton Gammon and others will be on the field. Some good new material is in training. Do not miss the game and the admission is only 35 cents.

John E. DeLoach, Jr., of Jackson was in Grenada Wednesday. John was born and reared in Grenada and is pleasantly remembered by many friends. He is now chief executive clerk in the office of the Federal Prohibition Commissioner at Jackson, a position he has held under two administrations and one that he is evidently filling with excellent satisfaction. He is a capable young man. He has the talent and the energy and is blessed with that exceptional adaptability characteristic of his family, all necessary elements to make a success at anything. Mr. DeLoach was here making the preliminary arrangements for the Prohibition department to operate a still during the Fair so as to demonstrate the poison in the moonshine whiskey of the present day.

Some of the members of the Woman's Club have felt that we are not accomplishing anything for ourselves or for the town and that perhaps we had better disband the club. As President, I feel the responsibility of the decision very keenly though my work in the club is of no more importance than that of each individual in it. If a club is not serving some good purpose, either for its members or for the community at large, it has no reason to exist. A few members have been carrying on the burden of the club work and no club can do its best under those conditions. It needs the support of all its members and the encouragement of all the town and county. We are a new organization and have had all the usual troubles of beginners in making this start in club work, as in other places, our greatest struggle has been against indifference to club work and lack of interest.

If you feel that it is worth anything to the town and county to have a Woman's Club, if you believe, as we do, that our entertainment of the State Federation of Women's Clubs gave Grenada an added standing in civic affairs, if you think we have helped the community in any way, help us now with your encouragement. We want to build a club house some day, if the club survives the present crisis, and

If any women have thought of joining the club, do so now and help us to keep on with the organization. The regular meeting is the first Wednesday in October, the 3rd, and I hope that every member and prospective member will be there. It will be, I hope, the beginning of new life and enthusiasm for our club.

Mrs. Selwyn M. Jones, President

The mothers of the State should take notice that the diphtheria season is beginning and that every precaution should be taken to protect the children against this disease. This care should not only be given to school children but also to the pre-school age. It should be kept in mind that 60 per cent of the deaths from diphtheria occur to children under five years of age and susceptibility to diphtheria is greatest during this period.

One of the worries of parents whose children are entering school arises from the fear that they will be exposed to infectious diseases, diphtheria being the most dreaded.

It is well that parents should be anxious about diphtheria and this anxiety should materialize in the practice of preventive measures. Diphtheria has been on the increase in Mississippi during the past six years both in cases and deaths, with the exception of last year, but the

The public should know that during the past few years a safe and practically certain preventive has been discovered for diphtheria and this is known as toxin-antitoxin mixture. The child who has been given toxin-antitoxin,—a simple and inexpensive procedure,—is protected during the danger period and probably for life. A school in which all of the children are thus protected,—“immunized,” as we say, never has diphtheria epidemics to contend with. This statement is borne out by the experience of the Mississippi State Board of Health during the past year in dealing with certain schools.

Parents should not wait to have their children immunized against diphtheria until school age or until the school authorities urge that it be done. Have your family physician give the toxin-antitoxin mixture to any child after six months of age. In fact, if all children in Mississippi between six months and six years of age were given toxin-antitoxin mixture, it would practically eliminate diphtheria from the State. Do not delay in having your family physician administer this preventive agent. Please keep in mind that this remedy is safe and a most valuable discovery in disease prevention. Why should not mothers avail them-

Very truly yours,
R. A. CLANTON, M. D.
County Health Officer

Remember how you delayed ordering Christmas cards last year?

and what a time you had getting them at the last minute? and how what you got was not what you wanted? Well, we have samples now for your leisurely selection. Order now, have them delivered to you Dec. 1 and pay for them the first of next year. THE GRENADA SENTINEL.

"Four thousand years of civilization have taught the Chinese the most logical way to preserve their health," said a well-known physician, a few days ago. "Instead of waiting until they get sick to call in the doctor they pay one a salary to keep them well."

"The trouble with most of us nowadays is that we go along disregarding our health, until, bang! one of these days, our system goes to sending in bills, and then we call in the physician and sometimes want him to undo in a few days what we have been doing to tear down our constitution for years."

The old saying "a stitch in time saves nine" applies with full force to the maintenance of our health.

By stopping occasionally to recuperate our health, energy and vitality through rest, recreation, and the use of effective aids to health there is no doubt that we would add at least ten years to our life.

The effectiveness and merit of Allison's Wells water as a tonic and as a means of relieving that run-down, tired-out feeling which is often the result of malaria, or stomach, kidney, liver, or bladder troubles, is clearly shown by the hundreds of statements from prominent men and women, who have quick and easy relief and help through the consistent use of this wonderful water when they were suffering from any of these distressing ailments.

The low rates, especially for families, which prevail at the famous Mississippi watering place, known as Allison's Wells, makes a vacation possible for families of limited means; and the splendid service and cooking and excellent accommodations makes it an attractive place for those whose means enable them to command just what they want.

Dancing, golf and tennis are among the amusements which help to make your visit more pleasant. More information, if you want it, in an attractive booklet, will be mailed on request.

In city traffic or on the open road, this new touring car impresses you instantly with its exceptional riding comfort.

The seats are deeper and lower. The body has been lengthened to afford more leg-room. Its low-slung design reduces side sway and increases the car's stability at all speeds.

The front springs are wider, and built of more, and thinner leaves; the rear springs—now underslung—have been materially increased in length.

In fact, the comfort of the car is comparable in every way with its good looks and the well known character of its performance.
